PREFATORY.

Fortunate indeed is that commonwealth in the American Union of States whose citizenship has the clear-sightedness and intelligent judgment to select for its representation in Congress men whose keenness, energy and patriotism enable them to occupy and hold a place among the safer and more progressive leaders of national thought and action.

Today, and for a few years past, Utah is one of the commonwealths enjoying such good fortune in a prominent degree. Little more than a decade since, and she was far removed from that highly gratifying and desirable national influence and prestige now so freely accorded to her. This merging into a position of decided vantage as compared with many of the older and more populous States is justly attributed in large measure to the industry, energy and capability of Senator Reed Smoot; in the accomplishment of this work he has had the able and effective co-operation of his associates in the Congressional delegation.

In the halls of Congress and in the forum of national comment and discussions it is stated with absolute accuracy that Senator Smoot has a wonderful capacity for work—honest, conscientious, intelligent work, and plenty of it; that he is untiring in his furtherance of measures and methods which he conceives to be based on just and righteous principles, and equally unflinching in his antagonism to that which he recognizes as dishonest, unjust, or hypocritical; that no interest of Utah, his native State, is passed by slightly, and no Utah citizen, however humble, but receives the benefit of his sympathetic solicitude as far as courtesy and fair dealing make it possible; and that while he esteems the various interests of Utah and her advancing prestige as a State to be a pearl of greatest worth, his breadth of comprehension and official action reach in commensurate degree to the welfare and progress of the whole American people, in whatever land or clime they may sojourn. That this enviable position in the intelligent and well-informed national mind has been reached in great degree through basic personal merit, is beyond cavil; that it directly reflects inestimable benefit to Utah's citizenship regardless of age, creed or party, is equally indisputable; and no thoughtful and sincerely patriotic Utahn wishes for a moment to relinquish the advantageous results thereby flowing to Utah.

SENATOR SMOOT'S SERVICE.

Reed Smoot's service as United States Senator from Utah began on March 5, 1903, and he is now (1914) in the closing year of his second term. He is fifty-two years of age, vigorous of mind and body, equipped by years of practical experience and the exercise of a broad judgment to render the people of Utah and of the nation a higher and better service in the United States Senate as each year passes along. Ranking as a leader among leaders in the Senate, he is always at his post of duty and alert to meet and fulfil every obligation coming to him.

Born in Salt Lake City, his parents moved to Provo, Utah, where his early life was spent. Active, energetic, forceful, in his early manhood he became a power among the people for the material advancement of Utah, to which his activities still are devoted. He was intimately associated by the contact of personal toil with the State's industrial affairs, in manufactures, agriculture, mining and finance, being successful in each; the educational and social welfare of the community also received an impetus from his personal example and conscientious participation.

Chosen to the United States Senate as one of the younger members of that body at the time, he diligently set himself to gain a thorough comprehension of the high requirements made of him in that capacity; and although met at the outset by many untoward circumstances, he overcame these with a dignity and courage that gained for him both the respect and the confidence of his colleagues, being in the first term of his service placed in the front rank of the nation's legislators—a fact which brought Utah and her people into a more favorable attitude before the world than ever had been known before.

His second term in the Senate has augmented the influential good fortune which has attended him, and the promise of the future is still brighter and better for Utah's advantage through his continued service in that body.

ON THE RIGHT SIDE OF QUESTIONS.

It is a peculiarly notable fact whenever a cry of adverse criticism has been made over some action of Senator Smoot as Senator, that time and the calmer judgment of the people have, without the exception of a single instance, demonstrated and declared that he was in the right. Working in accord with other national leaders when his judgment was in harmony with theirs, he nevertheless displayed independence of judgment and action whenever his convictions of right led him to disagree with any of his associates in the national administration; and the results have vindicated his good judgment. A warm personal friend of President Roosevelt, President Taft, Senators Aldrich, Lodge, Root, Dillingham and others, he has differed with them in judgment and in action, but never once has it been in rancor or in wrath; his personal friendly relation with each and all of them is unbroken, and even undisturbed. His aim and effort have been to make principle, not personality, his rule of guidance; and his influence as an exemplar in public as well as in private life rests upon this basis.

COMMITTEE WORK.

An exceedingly important field of action for a Senator is his committee work. This does not obtain detailed record in the printed report of congressional proceedings, but it is the larger and more effective portion of the labor performed. This has been eminently true in Senator Smoot's career. He has held place on the following named committees:

Chairman of the Committee on Standard Weight and Measures.
 Chairman of the Committee on Patents.
 Chairman of the Committee on Printing.
 Chairman of the Joint Committee on Printing (Senate and House).
 Chairman of the Committee on Public Lands.
 Chairman of the Committee on Expenditures in the Interior Department.
 Chairman of the Printing Investigation Commission.
 Member of the Committee on Claims.
 Member of the Committee on Forest Reservations and Protection of Game.
 Member of the Committee on Pensions.
 Member of the Committee on Railroads.
 Member of the Committee on Finance.
 Member of the Committee on Appropriations.
 Member of the Committee on Civil Service and Retrenchment.
 Member of the Committee on Public Health and National Quarantine.
 Member of the Committee on University of the United States.
 Member of the Committee on Committees.
 Member of Special Committee to Investigate High Cost of Living.
 Member of Joint Alaskan Commission.

He was also chairman of the Forest Section of the National Conservation Commission appointed by President Roosevelt.

No other Senator has had a more extended list of work assigned to him, all of which has been efficiently performed. In every committee or commission on which he has been placed he is known for making himself thoroughly acquainted with the matter under consideration. No other Senator is a more frequent visitor at the Government departments or in closer touch therewith on the numerous items of business that call him there. With quick business-like acumen, he presents matters clearly so that what he desires is readily comprehended. His wonderful faculty in this regard has brought him prompt recognition and commanded respect, and accounts largely for the success which has attended his efforts. In connection with committee work as well as with other business he is known in all Government departments at Washington as a Senator who does things on time and at the proper time.

LEGISLATIVE WORK.

Brief reference is made here to some of the more important matters of legislation which have received the attention of Senator Smoot; appended thereto is a list of legislative items connected with his action in the open sessions of Congress, taken from the Index to the Congressional Record.

The Tariff.

Even those who disagree with him as to the Republican policy of a tariff for the protection and encouragement of American industries admit that Senator Smoot is the best informed member of the Senate on matters connected with tariff legislation. He has been assailed frequently, and often misrepresented, but no opponent ever has been able to dispute his telling array of facts or ventured to question his ready ability to use them. Commenting upon the latest tariff discussion in Congress, the Washington National Tribune said editorially of Senator Smoot that he "won a nation-wide reputation by his wonderful industry in gathering up and digesting every material fact relating to the tariff system, and the vigor and skill with which he used these in debate," to the confusion of his opponents.

Willing to concede in all fairness the rule of protection to manufacturing interests of the Eastern and Middle States, he was determined that an equal protection should be accorded to the agricultural, manufacturing and mining interests of Utah and the West; and he was eminently successful in securing this when the Republican tariff policy was in force. There was an especially vigorous fight against a protective tariff for important Utah industries such as the manufacture of sugar and the production of lead and wool; and it was due to Senator Smoot's efforts that the protective tariff thereon was retained under Republican administration.

Claims Against the Government.

As a member of the Committee on Claims, he instituted the rule not to favor any claim against the Government which does not possess such merit as would justify its payment in a private business transaction. No matter what the influence in favor of claims of another character, they were excluded; while just claims, in many instances those where the claimants had no powerful influence behind them, received the favorable consideration to which they were entitled.

Veteran Soldiers and Their Widows.

As a member of the Committee on Pensions, Senator Smoot took an especial interest in the necessary care of the nation's veteran defenders and their widows. Every measure designed to bring to them deserved relief and sustenance received his ardent support, and every proposition to neglect or belittle them met with his determined opposition; and he was largely instrumental in securing the improvements made of recent years in the pension laws.

Forestry and National Conservation.

The foremost position which he occupied in behalf of a judicious forestry policy for the nation brought special recognition of his ability and knowledge relating thereto from President Roosevelt, who, on that account, honored him with the chairmanship of the Section of Forests of the National Conservation Commission; in this capacity he spent part of one summer in Europe with several other members of the commission, carrying out the purpose of its appointment. In the Senate he has opposed extreme theories and suggestions, but has stood firmly for proper forest preservation, management and use. An illustration of the commendations he received from the friends of the national forestry movement is indicated in a letter from the Colorado State Forestry Association, designating his speech as "a masterpiece," and declaring "the friends of forest legislation owe you a debt of unbounded gratitude."

The Copyright Laws.

For many years the national copyright laws had been in a very unsatisfactory condition, but all efforts to effect a suitable arrangement thereof had failed. Senator Smoot took the matter up in his usual earnest fashion, and introduced a bill "to amend and consolidate the acts respecting copyright." Public hearings, second in interest only to those on the tariff, were held. He presided at these, and leading men from all parts of the country, representing the various interests affected by copyright legislation, were present and participated.

Out of all the disturbing causes there was obtained a satisfactory result, though it took three years of effort. The Century Magazine especially commended Senator Smoot for his notably prominent part in producing a measure which, "by the soundness of its principles and the adequacy of its remedies," would be "the law of the land for many years to come." The Musical Age, commenting on the fact of Senator Smoot's candidacy for reelection, said: "Every member of the musical industry who watched Senator Smoot's whole-hearted and conscientious work on the copyright bill will hope for his return." J. J. Sullivan, chairman of the Copyright Committee of the International Typographical Union, wrote to Senator Smoot: "I wish to extend to you the thanks of the Copyright Committee of the International Typographical Union for the fair and impartial consideration always extended to us in our efforts to safeguard the interests of the union printers of the United States through copyright legislation, and I desire to warmly express my personal thanks for the unfailing courtesy always shown me." These are but typical comments from the generally expressed satisfaction.

Public Printing Expenditure.

As chairman of the Senate Committee on Printing, the Joint Senate and House Committee on Printing, and the Joint Printing Investigation Commission, Senator Smoot succeeded in effecting a great economic reform, resulting in cutting off a waste in the Government printing division of from $400,000 to $500,000 per year; yet not a competent, honest workman lost his job.

Relations With Mexico.

Senator Smoot has been very desirous of avoiding armed conflict with Mexico, knowing what it would mean in life and treasure to both parties. He has been an ardent advocate of peace so long as it could be maintained with a due regard for the interests of American citizens and the honor of the nation. He did not want intervention in Mexico if it could be avoided by any reasonable means; and he was emphatically averse to an inexcusable meddling with Mexican internal affairs by the United States or its representatives. When a fleet of American warships with an armed force was sent to seize the Mexican port and city of Vera Cruz, he wanted a full and frank statement of the reasons therefor made to the American public, and to the world; he wished the whole truth told to the American people, and to the people of other nations, as could wisely and safely be done, in justification of the course of this nation; hence he supported and voted for the Lodge resolution. This nation being in the position of using force of arms, for which there was ample justification as set forth in the Lodge resolution, Senator Smoot's voice and vote and energy have been all in support of the American Flag, and of the American nation as an undivided whole in its action; and no more loyal, patriotic American citizen holds a place in the United States Senate.

Long and Short Haul Clause.

Perhaps no piece of legislation of such few words, in recent railroad enactments, contains so much of vital importance to the West as that known as the Long and Short Haul Clause. This was presented by Senator Smoot, and the contest thereon was animated. Capable and influential Senators, particularly from the East, opposed it vigorously; but by his knowledge of western as well as eastern conditions Senator Smoot was able to add to the efforts of others a convincing argument that secured the adoption of the clause.

Smoot Dry Farm Law.

When Senator Smoot introduced his Dry Farm bill, providing for the homesteading of three hundred and twenty acres of arid, non-irrigable, non-timbered, non-mineral land without the usual requirement of residence thereon, there was aroused a considerable storm of protest against this enlargement of homesteads, particularly from the representatives of several western States. But the facts presented by Senator Smoot in support of his measure were so indisputable and effective an argument that he won the adherence of the majority of the Senate. Then representatives of States contiguous to Utah, pleading that it would work injury to their respective localities, had State after State withdrawn from the operations of the non-resident provision of the law, until Utah was the only State within the complete processes of Senator Smoot's proposition. Subsequently the excepted States, noting the advantages accruing to Utah, asked that the provision formerly declined be applied to them.

Indian War Veterans.

Since Senator Smoot took the matter up, many of the veterans of the Walker-Indian war in Utah have received pensions, including the amount due and accumulated for previous years. Until he took action these people, although legally entitled to pensions, had been practically barred. He is now continuing efforts on the same line, to secure merited recognition for the veterans of later Indian wars in Utah.

The Uintah Country.

The opening of the Uintah and Uncompahgre Indian reservations to settlement as far as was consistent with the welfare of the Indians there, came within the scope of Senator Smoot's activities, and was efficiently attended to as far as legislative matters required. Necessary extensions of time for homesteaders, appropriations for building bridges and irrigation systems in the Uintah district, also were obtained by his aid. The Indians in other parts of the State, too, received the necessary assistance.

Public Buildings and Finances.

Government buildings in Utah suitable to the requirements of the nation's business here have been warmly advocated by Senator Smoot during his whole career in the Senate, and his influence in obtaining appropriations therefor has been very effective. He is also awake to the financial needs of this State in every relation with the Federal Government, whether in constructing irrigation systems, Government fish hatchery, good roads, or public buildings.

THE SENATOR'S FIDELITY.

Elected to the United States Senate from one of the newer States of the Union, and in comparison with great States of the East, such as New York and Pennsylvania, one of the smaller ones in point of population, Senator Smoot's fidelity to the sacred trust reposed in him by the people of Utah has been of the highest character; and he always has acknowledged with deepest gratitude and esteem their approval of his humble, honest efforts, which he sincerely believes have been of benefit to the State which honored him as one of its representatives in the national Congress.
